Almudarvi means 'devoted to the world' an appropriate name for this beautiful aluminium sailing yacht. Built by the Spanish yard Astilleros Viudes designed by German Frers, the original drawings are still present. Since taking her over in 2006, the second owners have refitted Almudarvi to a high standard and moved her to Sardinia. She has been repainted, given new rigging, had an overhaul of the teak deck and fitted with a new hydraulic gangway. Engine and generator have also been brought up to date and the interior renewed. Almudarvi is ready for her new owners on a world of new adventures!
